

Audit Details:

Legislation and governance of a fleet of vehicles and drivers can feel like walking on thin ice and creating a logistical headache. Corporate manslaughter legislation and the safety of your drivers and vehicles must be taken seriously by any organisation employing staff who are driving on company business. Our Fleet Risk Audit is an essential starting point for any business embarking upon a risk management programme or reviewing existing policies, processes and working practices. The outcomes of the audit will provide the business with a current view and risk rating that the business and its directors face in the event of a serious road collision and what mitigation can be deployed to reduce risk and improve driver safety.

Delivery Method:

Our highly experienced team of risk consultants will visit your business and undertake an audit on how the fleet of vehicles and drivers are managed and what policies and procedures are in place and more importantly, implemented, managed and maintained. Our Consultants will interview key members of staff responsible for managing the drivers and fleet and, where possible, meet some of the drivers and view operating practices.

On conclusion of the audit a customer will receive a detailed audit report on our findings and any recommendations to consider. Through working in a collaborative manner we can work with you on the most appropriate solutions. Any such solution can involve access to consultancy services within the TTC Group or one of its partners or any other service provider. First and foremost, the solution must benefit you!

The audit takes approximately three hours to complete where our auditor will run through a series of questions and dialogue. We would recommend that key stakeholders are onsite during the audit so they are on hand to answer any particular questions. The audit will culminate in a report for consideration and further discussion where necessary.
